Pressure on Reds, Says Taylor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, a top adviser to President Johnson, says the reasons for continuing the lull in the bombing of North Viet Nam targets are exhausted and "we must keep the pressure on."

His declaration was viewed as one of the strongest indications yet that the United States soon will resume its air strikes. Taylor, former ambassador to Saigon who now is a presidential consultant on Viet Nam, was at the President's side Tuesday night during a top-level White House meeting with congressional leaders.

Less than 24 hours later, Taylor told a New York news conference that he felt the bombing pause was justified "in spite of the obvious military disadvantages."

"We have shown friends and foes the sincerity of our peaceful purposes," he said.

But the reasons for continuing it are exhausted. He said, "We must keep the pressure on until the other side decides that there is no chance of our breaking."

Earlier in Washington, Secretary of State Dean Rusk said on Capitol Hill that the United States has carried its peace efforts "from A to Z and almost through Z."

Democratic Senate Leader Mike Mansfield, who has opposed renewal of air attacks on North Viet Nam targets, having accomplished at the Tuesday night meeting the kind of consultation with Congress that some critics have been demanding.

Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, who wants the bombing pause extended, and Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who has taken no position on the matter, have urged such consultations.

Preakness Festival Is Proposed

ANAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — A Preakness festival patterned after the week-long Kentucky Derby celebration in Louisville was proposed today to Gov. J. Millard Tawes and Mayor Theodore A. McKeldin of Baltimore.

A committee appointed by the governor and mayor urged that work begin immediately so a festival can be held for this year's running of the Preakness May 21.

Herbert G. Bailey Jr., chairman of the special committee, said the Maryland Jockey Club, which owns Pimlico race track, has agreed to finance the festival for the next two years up to a maximum of $50,000 a year.

Senators Divided on Bombings

EDITOR'S NOTE — As Capitol Hill keeps a sharp eye on developments in the Viet Nam situation, a prime issue is whether the bombing of North Viet Nam targets should be resumed. An Associated Press survey shows there is a wide division in the Senate on the bombing question.

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is widely divided on the issue of whether President Johnson should order a resumption of the bombing of North Viet Nam targets in the absence of any Communist peace feelers.

Of 50 senators willing to take a position in an Associated Press survey, 25 said they are against renewing air strikes at this point. Twenty-five said they favor resumption of bombing, most of them contending such action is inevitable.

If the bombings are revived, however, only 18 think they should be expanded to include industrial and military targets in the areas of Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital, and Haiphong, its chief port.

Senatorial reluctance to take side on the bombing issue was emphasized by the refusal of 39 members to commit themselves on a decision they said is President Johnson's sole responsibility.

The White House said late Tuesday that the President had made no decision on the resumption of bombings. Sources said Tuesday night after Senate and House leaders met with Johnson that the congressional group had been given no word on whether the air strikes would be resumed.

Senators were asked in the AP survey: 1. Do you favor resumption of bombing of North Viet Nam targets such as those being hit before the suspension? 2. Do you favor expansion of the bombing to include military and industrial targets in such areas as Hanoi and Haiphong?

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, led the list of those opposed to resuming air attacks.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who said that "war admits of no holiday," nevertheless declined to take a position because he said, "You don't make a final judgment unless you are sure you have the facts."

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, the assistant Republican leader, declined comment. Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana, the assistant Democratic leader, said he favors resumption of bombings. He said that if the President decides to widen their scope, he will support the action.

Withholding Plan May Be Modified

By EDMOND LE BRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's proposal for graduated withholding of personal income taxes probably will be modified to reduce the bite on middle- and upper-bracket paychecks before the legislation goes to the House floor.

This was the outlook today as the House Ways and Means Committee resumed hearings on Johnson's $4.8-billion tax package, of which graduated withholding is a part. Major components of it are a reimposition, for two years, of automobile and telephone excise taxes that had dropped Jan. 1 and a speedup in corporate tax collections.

Graduated withholding, like the corporate tax speedup, does not increase the amount of tax paid. It is designed to put collections more nearly on a pay as you go basis, so that fewer make-up payments would be required at the end of the year.

However, the schedule prepared by the Treasury and written into the bill has come under fire on the ground it calls for too much withholding from the result that many of these higher-income taxpayers, with the result that many of these would have to apply for refunds and would have money tied up without earning interest.

Republican members of the committee first raised this objection. A check today indicated substantial sentiment on the Democratic side also for adjustment of the withholding schedule.

The Treasury's own explanation of the bill concedes that the number of taxpayers in the $10,000-a-year and above income brackets who have too much tax withheld would be increased by the terms of the measure. Some critics say the effect would reach as far down as the $5,000 bracket.

The Treasury estimates that, of the 9 million taxpayers who file returns under the present system on incomes of $10,000 a year or more: — 2.9 million have too much withheld from their paychecks. This number would increase to 5 million under the new system.

— 5.7 million now do not have enough withheld. This number would decrease to 3.4 million.

— 400,000 approximately break even. This group would increase to 600,000.

On the other hand, the Treasury says the changes it backs would greatly reduce the over-withholding of tax from lower-bracket taxpayers, relieving 12.6 million in the under $5,000 bracket and 2.6 million in the $5,000-$10,000 bracket.

Angered by Card Burning They Acted

EDITOR'S NOTE — Angered by the draft card burnings and anti-Viet Nam demonstrations last October, two young Americans made remarkable efforts to try to get into the armed forces. One took off 130 pounds; the other underwent surgery. The following stories tell what has happened to them.

By PATRICK E. O'KEEFE

ROSELLE, Ill. (AP) — A husky young landscaper who underwent a hernia operation so he could pass a Marine Corps physical examination is looking ahead to starting two years of active duty in March.

Ronald Olliges, 20, said he won't mind if he is sent to Viet Nam, and if the Marines put the choice to him, he'll volunteer for duty there. He was sworn into the Marines Jan. 6.

Olliges underwent the hernia operation Oct. 19 after the Marines told him he needed it to qualify.

If the United States wins in Viet Nam, he said, "it will stop them (the Communists) from trying it other places. Otherwise this thing will just keep on going and we'll have to fight them some place else."

The 6-foot-1 youth, who dropped from 220 to 205 pounds after the operation, said his first month of recuperation was quite painful. Even now, he said, "I get a shot of pain every once in awhile."

Joseph Olliges Sr., operator of a tree nursery in Roselle, a suburb of Chicago, said he and his wife approved of both the operation and the Marines for their son. The elder Olliges, however, said he'd miss his son, Ron, who had taken charge of the landscaping part of the Olliges business.

Joseph Olliges Jr., 22, Ron's brother, is in the Marine Corps Reserves. He said he is "quite proud" of his young brother.

On March 22, Ron Olliges will report to Camp Pendleton, Calif. He said his assignment will "most likely be infantry."

Capital Footnotes

Rep. Chet Holifield, D-Calif., says the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee will study the proposed cutback in the size of the planned 200-billion-electron-volt atom smasher. Labor Department says it will help Job Corps graduates get jobs or further their training. Senate Foreign Relations Committee delays decision on a proposal to study the Central Intelligence Agency.

Teacher Likes The Flashy Kind?
Dear Helen: My science teacher since the beginning of the school year, has liked the — well sexy girls. He calls them to the board everyday and just asks them the questions. I get good marks on homework and tests and can answer all the questions, but I am never asked. I'm afraid my marks will go down on conduct and effort and even the real grade.

I try to be like those girls by wearing the new high-waisted dresses and I even had my hair cut like them. Do you suppose it is my glasses? — Worried

Dear Worried: He probably picks the "sexy" girls because they may be sharper on looks than brains and need all the classroom help they can get.

It's too bad, honey, but often the smartest one in the class gets the least chance to show it as she has already proved she is ahead of the pack.

Ask your teacher for an extra credit project. THAT will make him notice you! — H.

Dear Helen: I've been looking at girls' hair close lately. Hardly anyone has shiny hair any more. It looks dull and the ends are all broken and a lot of hair looks just plain uncombed. What has happened? Boys' hair is better looking than the girls' these days. — Bill

Dear Bill: I've noticed this too — and for those girls who haven't start looking. Then start wondering: "Does MY hair look that lifeless?" ... And stop mistreating it with too much dye, spray, backcombing, too little of the brush and shampoo. — H.

Dear Helen: About a year ago my mother found out that my sister was the "other woman" down at her office. Her boss, who has three children, wanted to get a divorce and marry her. Well, my mother didn't try to help my sister, but instead spread it all over the whole darn town that my sister was a home-wrecker. My father blamed her too, and threatened all kinds of things. Well, time passed and my sister got another job but my mother went to her new boss and told him a lot of stuff, and she got fired. Then she left town. I'm not allowed to see her or even write to her.

She may have written to me, I didn't get the letters. My father knows her address, but my mother doesn't want to know. I'm afraid to ask for it.

We were always very close, and I know my sister wouldn't have done anything wrong unless she was so in love she couldn't think straight. I know she's sorry and I want to patch things up, but mostly I want to see her. What can I do? — Missing Her

Dear M.H.: Ask your father for her address (I think he'll give it to you) and tell your mother you plan to get in touch with her. If your parents won't allow it, then write a letter to her last address, hope it will be forwarded and have her write to you, care of a friend. This is one time when I think disobedience is justified! — H.

Houston, Rated One of Best, Tops Baylor

By TED MEIER Associated Press Sports Writer

The University of Houston Cougars have become one of the best independent college basketball teams in the country after losing their first three games of the season.

The Cougars, playing on their home court in Texas, edged Baylor 92-91 in overtime Wednesday night for their sixth straight victory. They now have won 11 of 12 games since their first three defeats by San Francisco, Brigham Young and Texas A&M for an over-all 11-4 record. Their other defeat was by one point to Maryland 69-68.

The Cougars boast a 102-89 victory over the Providence Friars, the lone defeat of the season for the Friars, third-ranked in The Associated Press poll.

The Cougars also own a 72-71 road triumph over the Tulsa Hurricane, the leader in the tough Missouri Valley Conference.

Joe Hamood, whose basket in the last 36 seconds beat Tulsa, was the hero again against Baylor. He beat the Bears with a free throw in the last seven seconds of the extra period. This gave the Cougars a three-point lead and they made no effort to stop Russell Kibbe from scoring a Baylor basket with two seconds left.

Hamood paced the Cougars with 27 points. Darrell Hardy, who forced the overtime with a corner shot in the last 14 seconds to tie the regulation game at 83-83, was high for Baylor with 21.

Eighth-ranked Cincinnati, the only team in the AP Top Ten, to see action, had a hard struggle at home to defeat St. Joseph's College of Indiana, the team which upset the Bearcats a year ago. This time the Bearcats won 71-66, paced by sophomore John Howard's 26 points.

Drake came from behind for a 74-71 road triumph over Iowa State in the 120th renewal of their basketball rivalry. Bob Netolicky, with 16, and Herman Watson and Harold Jeter, with 15 each, combined for 46 points to lead the Bulldogs. Sophomore Don Smith starred in a losing cause with 30 points and 24 rebounds for a single-game Iowa State record.

Miami of Ohio, the leader in the Mid-American Conference, won its 10th straight with a 74-57 home-court victory over Marshall. Army edged Rutgers 62-61 at West Point for its sixth in a row.

Red Robbins, 21, and Ron Widby, 20, combined for 41 points to lead Tennessee over North Carolina State 65-54 on the neutral Mid-South Coliseum court in Memphis.

Baseball Games Going Under Lights

CINCINNATI (AP) — Baseball fans in National League cities will see an increased number of games under the lights this year.

The league's 1966 schedule shows 482 night games — compared with 433 last year. Chicago's Wrigley Field is the only ball park without lights so all Cub home games, as in the past, will be daytime affairs.

One of the season's first games under the lights will be the debut of the new Atlanta Braves, who take on Pittsburgh in a home game the night of April 12.

St. Louis, Los Angeles and San Francisco also play their first home games April 12, one day after the season starts at Cincinnati's Crosley Field with a game between the Reds and the New York Mets.

Cincinnati starts a day before the rest of the league in alternating years. It always opens the season at home in recognition of the fact the first professional baseball team was formed here in 1869.

Chronic Knee Continues to Hurt Baylor

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The chronic knee trouble of Elgin Baylor, sophomore sensation to become the Los Angeles sharpshooter, continued in the season didn't seem to give Baylor any trouble Wednesday night.

Baylor and Jerry West combined for the shooting point in the Lakers' 120-112 defeat of the Detroit Pistons in the first round of a National Basketball Association quarterfinal game.

The New York Knicks played to a strong finish in a quarterfinal game, downing the San Antonio Spurs 115-103 in the second of only other NBA games.

Baylor reacted to a foul by dropping to 11 points and missing the last shot of the game, a 31-26 lead in the second period and led the rest of the team to the victory.

Don Nelson, coach of the Lakers, said Baylor's knee trouble was not as bad as it had been in the first and second rounds of the playoffs.

But eight other players from the West Coast team placed first in the league.

West topped the list with 35 points and 11 rebounds and Boozer had 21 points and 11 rebounds.

Center Joe Starks had 22 points to lead the Lakers.

Palmer Off to Fine Start as Money Player

By JACK STEVENSON Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Golf's leading money winner of all time, Arnold Palmer, opened play today in the $55,000 Lucky International Open after starting 1966 faster than any other year in his remarkable professional career.

Arnie won low pro honors in the pro-amateur prelude over the Harding Park municipal course to push his January earnings to $20,750.

Not a bad start for a fellow who many thought on the down grade when he placed only 10th on the money list in 1965 with $57,773 in official winnings and $52,889 over-all.

Today Palmer left the tee among the late starters for this first round of San Francisco's 72-hole event with its $7,500 top prize.

He had whipped around Harding in 65 Wednesday followed by a big gallery and playing with three amateur partners who helped him to a 56 in the team play, tied for second with a group headed by George Bayer, who individually had a 70.

Don Massengale, who hung on to beat Arnie by a stroke last Sunday at the Crosby, also found Harding to his liking in the pro-am and posted a 67. So did Randy Glover and Billy Maxwell.

The latter and his team of Californians won the team honors with a best-ball 55. With Maxwell were Erick Engman of San Francisco, Lloyd F. Fritzell of Red Bluff and Lou Spiro of Stockton.

Most of the interest centered on the big guns. Defending champion George Archer shot a 68. Ken Venturi a 69, Billy Casper a 70 and Tony Lema a 71.

Palmer started this year the same as he did 1963 with a victory at Los Angeles, but three years ago he was disqualified in the Crosby. In 1961, Arnie won at San Diego but didn't make the cut at Los Angeles after carding a 12 on one hole and he placed only fourth at the Crosby.

No this year has been the best of all.

Coach Won't Raid Dartmouth Staff

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — "Dartmouth has been good to me and I'm not going to raid its coaching staff," says Jack Musick, new head football coach at Cornell University.

Musick, 40, was named Wednesday from his post as line coach for Dartmouth College's undefeated Ivy League champions.

He succeeded Tom Harp, 32, who became head coach at Duke University after five years of guiding the Big Red.

During his 11 years with the Indians, Dartmouth gridders compiled a 69-27-3 record, unbeaten seasons.

Musick was a standout lineman at the University of Southern California from 1945 to 1947 and came to Dartmouth as part of head coach Bob Blackman's staff in 1953.

Musick is Cornell's 17th football coach. Terms of his contract were not announced.

Chicago May Get a New NBA Entry

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The hopes of Chicago's entry in the National Basketball Association for next season undoubtedly rest with the possible acquisition of home-town Cazzie Russell, the All-America at Michigan.

Chicago twice before has failed to make a go in the NBA, but Wednesday it was given another chance by the league's board of governors in New York.

They voted to expand to 10 teams with the new franchise awarded to a Chicago group headed by Dick Klein, former basketball player at Northwestern and with the old Chicago Gears pro team of the 1940s, and now head of his own sales promotion company.

Russell could become the hub of the team and kingpin of its promotion.

Cazzie reportedly said in Ann Arbor, Mich., Wednesday night: "Several people interested in a franchise for Chicago have talked to me. I am inquisitive about what the outcome will be. It will be a tougher decision about me playing in Chicago than a lot of people think."

The last time Chicago made a run for it in the NBA was 1961. The team was first called the Packers and then the Zephyrs, and moved to Baltimore in 1963. Prior to that were the Stags who lasted from 1946 to 1950.

When Chicago got a franchise in 1961, it received from the NBA the No. 1 draft choice and five choices on the second round. Walt Bellamy of Indiana was a top pick and some NBA owners are said still to be sour about it. They may not be that generous again with a new team.

Whether they are may be discussed today at a news conference in Chicago attended by Walter Kennedy, NBA president, Ben Kerner, owner of the St. Louis Hawks and chairman of the expansion committee and Alvin Karpis, who is to tell of his plans to make the International Amphitheatre home base.

New Ranges Make Cook Happy

by Kay Sherwood
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Whatever else takes place around the home during the holidays one thing is certain: we all spend more time in the kitchen and specifically at the range. With fancier meals, more guests and children home from school, the range gets a workout which it may or may not be up to.

I am among the home-makers who are seriously thinking about retiring the old stove and up-dating the cooking procedures in our house.

What kind of range to buy? I have no intention of getting into the classic argument over which is better—gas or electric ranges. Far, far greater cooks than I have berated each other for years on this score. I have cooked with each fuel and with about equal facility and results. Suffice it to say that there are splendid ranges in both categories. In the last few years, range design and improvements have stabilized and the better features are to be found in various price lines.

Most of us must consider points like space, price, what features we would like and so on. Another point to consider is whether or not you expect to stay in a home for a long time. The last new range I bought was just four years ago and I expected to be cooking on it for 10-15 years. A short time later we moved to another part of the country and the sale of the house was predicated on leaving all

New ranges pack a lot of features into a small space, bringing greater efficiency and pleasure to cooking. This new twin-oven range fits into 30 inches of wall space. Besides the wide oven below and a smaller auxiliary one above, it has a timed appliance outlet, low roasting heat controls, automatic temperature controls to permit meals to be cooked and held at serving temperatures. It will even clean its own big oven.

kitchen appliances, including a very old refrigerator and the very new stove. I think the sale price would have been the same if the stove had been a budget model rather than a de luxe.

A de luxe model range isn't going to transform an indifferent cook into a great chef. But the added features, especially the tried-and-true ones like automatic oven and range top timers, low heat roasting controls and the cook-and-hold-at-serving-temperature control, can make cooking easier and more pleasant. Paying for added features, however, is foolish unless you master their use and incorporate them into the daily cooking.

Even the new electric oven cleaning cycle on the top models may be worth its extra cost if oven cleaning is something you dislike or, as in my case, postpone too long. High heat flowing into the oven which is sealed shut literally carbonizes and vaporizes the grease and food splatters leaving only a small ash residue to wipe up with a damp cloth.

If you cook a lot and entertain frequently, it goes almost without saying you'll look for the biggest range you can find for the space you have available. But those of us who are not so lavish should look ahead a few years. Children grow up and bring home friends, social life increases and you may appreciate more in three or four years today's decision to invest in a double oven range. Twin ovens are available in vertical arrangement to fit a 30-inch space as well as the horizontal side-by-side arrangement of larger ranges.

Batman Hits the Tube! Zowie!

By JOAN CROSBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Glee, it's Batman, pouncing, thwacking, leaping, zowieing all over television as ABC-TV brings the comic book hero into living rooms in color as a twice-weekly television series, beginning Wednesday, Jan. 12 and Thursday, Jan. 13. The network is hopeful that television's first pop art show will appeal to audiences on two levels. Children are supposed to be wide-eyed and breathless over the wild adventures of wealthy, elegant Bruce Wayne, Batman himself, and his ward, Dick Grayson, who becomes Robin in the swish of a cape.

The adults are supposed to howl as handsome Adam West, with Batman's straight square-jawed face, speaks vintage dialogue like "Surrender you rats," "This smells like a trap," "You interest me strangely," and "Poor deluded girl. If only she had let me save her..." The man who began all this is Bob Kane, a 43-year-old nervous-looking New Yorker. As a brash kid of 18, he knew just what he wanted and took Batman, his comic book creation, to a publisher's office where he immediately sold the strip.

Kane knows exactly what he has wrought. Should he ever forget, he can remind himself by counting his royalties from the one-half billion comic books sold since 1939 which, if piled one on top of each other, would make a heck of a statistic for someone.

He says he has never doubted that his hero would some day become a television star. "I have been championing him for 10 years, but the time wasn't right. There is always a propitious time for things like this, and when it arrives they come to you."

"Now we're in a pop art cycle, and if Batman is a success, I know other series, based on comics like Mandrake the Magician and the Green Hornet, are waiting in the wings. The old Batman movie serials are a big hit as a pop art show, and if the old one is such a hit, I hope the new one will be considered 'in, too.'"

Kane says the original Batman comic books are now worth from $50 to $100 a copy from collectors. ("I don't have any. I lost mine in a fire.") Ray Bolger, the one-of-a-kind song and dance man, would like to turn to Broadway and make a musical out of the good old days of the comic book. He says he has been thinking about it for a long time.

But making a Broadway musical out of the comic book is a tall order. The comic book is a visual medium, and the musical is an auditory one. The comic book is a visual medium, and the musical is an auditory one. The comic book is a visual medium, and the musical is an auditory one.

Umbrella Holder Basket

DEAR POLLY — Many items are stored in attics or garages that can be put to some good use other than that for which they were intended. I found that a large floral spray basket, with a metal liner, makes an interesting umbrella holder. The basket may be spray painted to make it a part of the room's decor. Even after 18 years of marriage I still find new and clever ideas in the column.—RUTH

DEAR POLLY — With really cold weather at hand many mothers are getting out their knitting needles to make mittens for their youngsters. If, on completion, they snip off the toes of discarded nylon stockings to line the tips of these new mittens they will be extra warm and give longer wear.—HERTA

DEAR POLLY — Stick two corks at either end of the piano keyboard if there are any toddlers in the house. If the lid drops, tiny fingers do not get pinched.

Before starting a baking session, fill a bowl with warm water. When that inevitable knock sounds on the door, or the telephone rings, you can rinse your hands without encrusting the water taps, etc. with pastry.

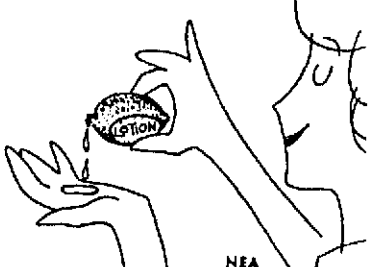

When putting snapshots in an album slip each negative behind the appropriate picture and they are easy to locate when you want to have duplicates made.—ANN

DEAR POLLY — We use those plastic lemons and limes (that come filled with juice) for all sorts of things. When empty we remove the inner stopper and fill with shampoo, hair rinse or hand lotion. Then the inner stopper is replaced and the hole enlarged. Shampoo or rinse goes right along in the tub or shower, never spilling or breaking. The hand lotion lemons go anywhere in the house. We skillfully hide them among other plastic fruit we have in arrangements and there is always lotion at hand without having to look for it. They also make fine creamers for patio or picnics.

Another use is for watering small house plants without spilling water on everything. Small children love them for water-gun, both floating and squirting.

When using my vacuum spray attachment for painting I cover the base and other parts with transparent plastic wrap and it keeps them from becoming paint splattered.—PHYLLIS

DEAR POLLY — During cold weather I fill a small plastic bottle with warm water and baby holds it to keep his hands a little warmer.—MRS. J. K.

YOUR DENTAL HEALTH

Dental Diseases Take Grim Toll Which Can Be Curbed

BY WILLIAM LAWRENCE, D.D.S.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

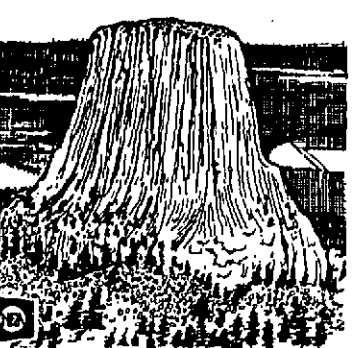

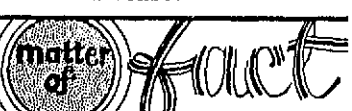

Most dentists in the United States are so busy these days that they are working at full capacity performing all services involved in providing Americans with the best dentistry in the world. Americans spend $2 billion a year for these dental health services. Yet according to a survey completed a few years ago, using the year 1960, our people accumulated at least 700 million unfilled cavities. Only 10 per cent of the children under 5 visited a dentist. Nearly one-third of all children 5 through 14 never visited a dentist, yet neglect in this age group can have serious consequences. Almost one-third of all people 35 or over are without natural teeth. Periodontal disease, which causes half the tooth loss in our population, affects half our people by 50 and almost everyone by the time they are 65. Each year 20,000 people develop mouth cancer, and about 4,000 die because of it.

Surely these are awesome figures. Is there nothing we can do about it? Can't dental disease be prevented? Some think the answer lies in more education and higher incomes; some say concerted public action is necessary, e.g., promoting universal fluoridation of drinking water; while others raise a cry for more productive research, more dentists, more auxiliary personnel and hygienists with sufficient training to assume increased responsibilities.

Many people, in and out of government, feel that the bigger, over-all problem of preventing disease and maintaining good dental health of our people should be dealt with on a community, state and national level. But this is a highly controversial matter.

In these articles we're concerned with those recognized preventive measures in the year 1966 that we can employ to protect ourselves and our families from the ravages of dental disease.

To save them the gods raised the rock beyond the bears' reach, pushing the little girls into the sky, where they are still visible as stars in the constellation Taurus.

Making News Before It Happens

The technical revolution which is sweeping the small and middle-class city press of America makes every paper which converts to the offset printing process a news story for national distribution.

This writer has just completed a story and pictures on The Star's conversion for the March issue of Printing Production, Cleveland-based technical monthly; and he has a request from National Publisher, Washington organ of the National Editorial Association, for a similar article in the spring when presumably he will have put our production troubles with the new process behind us.

Trouble is the middle name of any new machine or process. But after three weeks in offset we are definitely making progress. And I can promise our patient and trusting subscribers that The Star will reach them on normal schedule from here on, after some outrageous delays at the beginning—although they were an unavoidable part of the "breaking-in" period.

It took but a week for our crew to learn to get the finished plates to the press by 3 p.m., but there were delays of from one to two hours in getting the press started, while Wesley Phillips, the Fairchild press factory installer, was still here making adjustments on the big machine. But he wound up the Hope job last weekend, and so production schedules once more are in the hands of The Star management.

There is still too much delay in starting up the press, while we learn how to match the five printing units with the timing of the folder. So we have advanced the edition time one hour to allow for this. Plates normally due at the press at 3 p.m. will be there at 2 p.m. instead—so you ought to get your Star an hour earlier beginning today.

However, we had a close shave Tuesday, and again Wednesday. An electrical short in the 220-volt circuit feeding the press knocked out the converter which changes alternating current to direct current—and of course a machine won't run without power. We are indebted to Dean Browning for bailing us out of deep trouble. He diagnosed the break and bridged the damaged circuit Tuesday, and again Wednesday. And today an expert from Cutler-Hammer, Inc., manufacturers of the electronic controls for most of the newspaper presses of the world, will be in Hope to make final repairs.

It was a dark day for The Star's staff Tuesday, but Dean Browning made it suddenly brighter—and our special thanks to him.

Order Restricts Enlistment of Draftees

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new order restricting enlistment of draftees in the National Guard and Reserves is aimed at halting the siphoning of men available for filling draft quotas, defense officials said today.

The Guard and Reserves have other manpower sources available to them without drawing on youths already tapped for induction, the officials said.

This was the explanation given in response to questions about a selective Service bulletin instructing local draft boards that young men under orders for induction no longer shall be allowed to sign up for the Guard and Reserves.

By joining the Army Guard or Reserves, a young man can escape two years of active duty. Instead, he serves only from four to 10 months in uniform getting his basic training and then, as a civilian, perform the remainder of his obligation, totaling six years, by drilling with his Guard or Reserve unit.

The Selective Service bulletin, distributed last week permits cancellation of induction orders only for youths enlisting in the regular Army, Navy, Marines or Air Force.

The Defense Department said: It was recognized "that Selective Service boards had some problem in their pipeline process with people scheduled for induction who were siphoned off by enlistment into the Reserve-Guard, while on the other hand there are otherwise adequate manpower supplies for fulfilling Reserve-Guard requirements."

Currently, there was a backlog of 94,000 young men awaiting their four to 10 months of fulfilling Reserve-Guard requirements.

Currently, there was a backlog of 94,000 young men awaiting their four to 10 months of basic training after signing up with the Guard and Reserve.

Until that backlog eases many of these young men will undergo no training other than a sort of stopgap drilling provided by their Guard or Reserve units.

The backlog results from the heavy increase in the regular Army. Recruits for the regular service have priority in training at the various bases, leaving relatively few spaces for Guard and Reserve enlistees.

Homemakers to Hear Specialist

Records are Important — Homemakers will have an opportunity Tuesday, February 1 to learn about a system of keeping a record of expenses.

Crystal Tenborg, Extension Home Management specialist, will be at the Hope Chamber of Commerce for a workshop Tuesday beginning at 1:30 p.m. Mrs. Tenborg will discuss why keep accounts, how to keep accounts and how to analyze the accounts after they are completed.

According to the home demonstration agent, Dolores McBride, each person attending will receive a Home Account Record Book to use in recording income and expenses.

There is no charge for this training or book received. Any homemaker interested is encouraged to attend.

Storm Holds Up Rescue Guides

CHAMONIX, France (AP) — As soon as the weather clears, Alpine guides will attempt to pick up pieces of wreckage from the Indian airliner which crashed into Mount Blanc. The wreckage will be turned over to experts investigating the disaster in which 117 persons were killed.

Efforts to recover evidence for the inquiry at Geneva, Switzerland, were delayed today by heavy snow and mist which shrouded the 15,781-foot mountain, the highest in Western Europe.

The plane crashed on Monday.

Offers Plan to Halt Spread of Nuclear War

GENEVA (AP) — President Johnson formally proposed today a seven-point program to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

The President acted in the face of escalating war in Southeast Asia and the possibility of acquiring atomic weapons by at least 10 nations in addition to the existing atomic powers.

In a message to the 17-nation disarmament conference opening in Geneva, Johnson urged that the atomic arms race be stopped and that existing stockpiles eventually be eliminated.

Union Shop Tactics Are Switched

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield switched to new tactics today — longer hours — in an attempt to counter the filibuster against the bill to prevent states from banning union shop contracts.

Mansfield called the senators in two hours earlier than usual to try to put some additional pressure on the tightly organized foes of the bill.

The same plan was tried unsuccessfully last fall in the initial Senate floor fight over the measure to repeal section 14B of the Taft-Hartley law.

Mansfield's problem is: He has the votes to pass the bill if it ever gets to a vote, but lacks the two-thirds majority it needed to choke off the filibuster.

Under Senate rules each member is entitled to two speeches on Mansfield's motion now before the Senate to take up the repeal bill.

But Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen says he has at least 25 foes of the measure organized into speaking teams against the motion.

This means 50 speeches and, at the rate of two or three a day, the filibuster could be carried on for much more time than Mansfield plans to devote to the bill.

Southern Democrats were prepared to carry on the talk-fest today.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., in a prepared speech, said Congress was wasting its time on the bill "while labor-management problems of far greater importance to the whole country go unnoticed."

"Recently the life of New York City was disrupted for 12 days by an illegal strike of subway and bus workers called in defiance of a court order," he said.

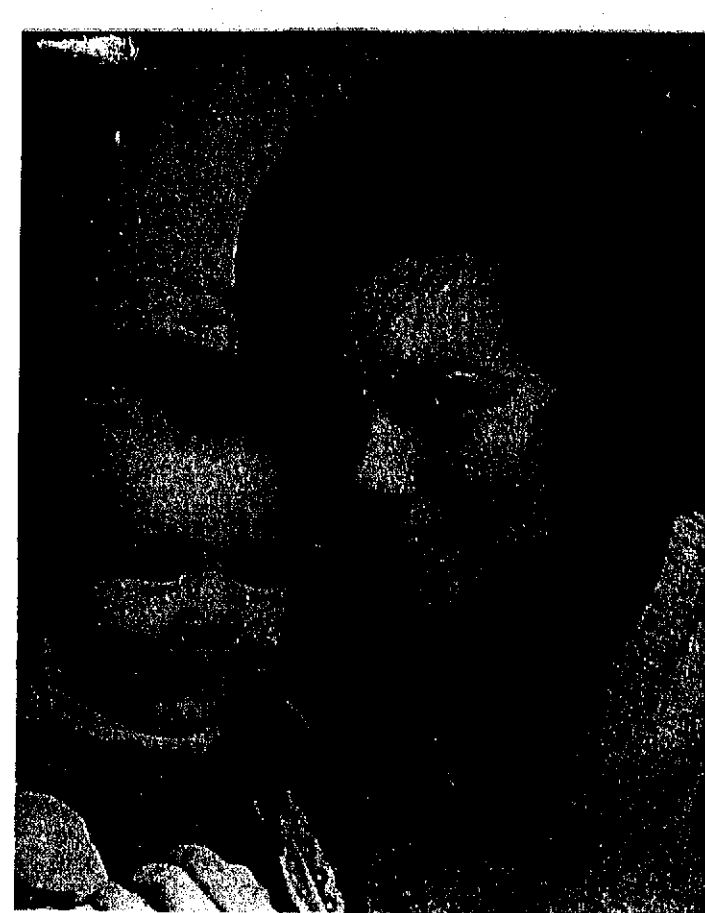

"Today we are threatened with a railroad strike in March which could affect the health and welfare of the entire nation."

"And yet, we stand here giving full priority to a comparatively insignificant section of the Taft-Hartley law, which does nothing more than preserve the sovereign right of each state to decide for itself whether it will protect its workers from compulsory unionism."

Under section 14B 19 states have enacted laws banning union shop contracts, under which employees must agree to join the union or at least pay the equivalent of dues to hold their jobs.

Mansfield tried different parliamentary maneuvers Tuesday and Wednesday to get the repealer up for debate, but the bill's opponents frustrated them easily both times.

Board policy prohibits married students with children from attending classes. Mrs. Cooper, who dropped out of Alvin High School last year and gave birth, filed a suit against the board. Farm Problems Still With the Russians

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
MOSCOW (AP) — In an effort to overcome the Soviet Union's chronic farm problems, the Soviet government has formed a committee of 140 top officials to revise the rules for the country's 36,000 collective farms.

The committee is headed by Leonid Brezhnev, first secretary of the Communist party. Its members include scientists, collective farm chairmen and farmers, as well as the 12-man ruling party Presidium, its six candidate members, all nine members of the party Secretariat and all party bosses of the 15 Soviet Republics.

The announcement Tuesday did not specify what changes the committee would make in the rules set 30 years ago by Stalin, but foreign observers believe it may increase incentives for farmers in an effort to boost production.

Clearing Skies Over Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Clearing skies over the state today brought a welcome relief from the cloudy, snowy conditions at the beginning of the week. But the U.S. Weather Bureau has warned of possible precipitation by the weekend.

The bureau said the skies should be cloudy by tonight and temperatures are expected to start dropping.

Light snow or snow flurries are forecast Friday night in the northern sections of the state and in the south by Saturday.

Wednesday's highs were in the 30s and 40s, with Memphis recording 30 degrees and the state high of 44 recorded at Dardanelle.

Overnight low temperatures ranged from ten degrees at Calico Rock to 27 at Hot Springs.

Low temperature tonight is forecast in the mid to lower teens.

Friday's highs are expected in the mid 20s and low 30s.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser extended an invitation to Kosygin and Brezhnev during his visit to Moscow last fall.

Heavy Snow Chokes Mid Atlantic Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A heavy snowstorm, termed by the Weather Bureau the biggest in years in the Middle Atlantic region, choked much of the region with wind-piled drifts today.

Virginia and the Carolinas were hard hit, and accumulations ranged up to 15 inches at Roanoke. Richmond was staggered with 14 inches of new snow and Washington, D.C., caught 3 inches during the night to find a 7-inch mantle today.

The Coast Guard at Portsmouth, Va., said the SS Sea Train New Jersey, carrying 39 crewmen and a cargo of truck trailers and railroad cars, was drifting in the choppy Atlantic off Cape Hatteras, N.C. The ship was located near the center of the Atlantic seaboard storm. The Coast Guard reported the 483-foot vessel said she was in no immediate danger.

At least two persons died in the third wintry assault on Virginia in less than two weeks — and the first to hit every area of the state.

As the snow began to taper off, state police and the Weather Bureau reported depths ranged to more than 16 inches and some drifts of 3 feet.

State police said chains or snow tires were required for auto travel anywhere in Virginia.

There was some snow over a 14-state area from northern Georgia to southern New England and the big disturbance brought Weather Bureau warnings of gales and high tides along the coast.

St. Mary's City, Md., on western Chesapeake Bay had 14 inches of snow. In North Carolina, Greensboro had 10 inches of cover.

Gale warnings were posted from Savannah, Ga., to Eastport, Maine, and the Weather Bureau said tides 2 to 4 feet above normal were expected to flood some low shore areas and bring some beach erosion from pounding of waves.

91 Cong Killed, 123 Captured in Big Fight

By THOMAS A. REEDY

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Allied forces reported today 91 Viet Cong were killed and at least 123 captured in their first sizable clashes since the end of the lunar New Year truce four days ago.

The South Vietnamese army's 9th Regiment struck the hardest single blow in a surprise attack on a Viet Cong training camp in the upper reaches of the Mekong Delta near the Cambodian border.

A government spokesman said 14 hardcore guerrillas were killed and 114 captured, including a training chief. The government troops also seized 117 suspects, many of them thought to be new recruits, and a batch of weapons and ammunition.

The 9th Division carried off the strike Wednesday morning by sending a spearhead of infantrymen into the camp 80 miles southwest of Saigon while another regiment in a rained personnel carriers blocked the enemy retreat. Government casualties were reported light.

A South Korean platoon patrolling Route 1, the main north-south highway, bumped into a force of about 70 Reds Wednesday night near Bong Son, 275 miles northeast of Saigon. In the fight 35 Viet Cong were killed, two captured and two carbines seized while the Koreans took only light casualties, a spokesman said.

The U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile Division, operating in the same coastal plains as the Koreans, reported 27 Viet Cong killed and 78 suspects and eight tons of Communist rice stores seized.

U.S. Marines on similar missions outside the sprawling Da Nang military complex, 380 miles northeast of Saigon, counted seven Viet Cong dead and three captured. Three of the guerrillas were hit when the Leathernecks exploded grenades in a large tunnel, which also yielded three Soviet and two American rifles.

But 20 to 30 guerrillas caught a Leatherneck squad waiting in ambush 5 miles northwest of Chu Lai, another Marine coastal base 50 miles south of Da Nang, and inflicted heavy casualties, a spokesman said.

Two Marines manning a checkpoint failed to return Wednesday night. A patrol sent after them found they had been killed by the Viet Cong. Several other Marines were wounded by Communist small-arms fire and mines in other patrols near Da Nang and Chu Lai.

The U.S. 1st Infantry Division closed out an operation called Quick Kick 30 miles north of Saigon. It reported one Viet Cong killed and four captured but said its big achievement was the discovery of a primitive mine factory and arms dump. The haul included seven Claymore-type mines which scatter shrapnel, quantities of casing, a 500-pound bomb, gunpowder and other explosives used for terrorist devices.

Highlights of Economic Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are some textual highlights from President Johnson's economic report to Congress today:

VIET NAM
The economic cost of Viet Nam imposes no unbearable burden on our resources. Prosecution for Viet Nam accounts for less than 1½ per cent of our GNP. Our prosperity does not depend on our military effort.

ECONOMIC POLICY
To attain full employment without inflation... to use fiscal and monetary policies to help to match total demand to our growing productive potential... to maintain and enhance healthy competition... to achieve national purposes as far as possible by enlisting the voluntary cooperation of business, labor and other groups.

ECONOMIS OUTLOOK
Demand will continue to grow rapidly in 1966 and production will respond... The vigor of investment spending demonstrates strong business confidence... The rising defense needs of the federal government are an important new force in the economy... State and local purchases will keep moving ahead... Rising consumer incomes will again largely be devoted to expenditures for better living.

COST-PRICE STABILITY
The vigorous economy we foresee in 1966 will tempt labor unions to demand wage increases... and business to raise prices. Labor must remember that growing employment and productivity are the foundation of higher wages, and business that an expanding economy is the basic source of profit gains. These foundations must not be jeopardized.

Johnson Paints Bright Picture of Prosperity

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson warned business and labor today that irresponsible wage-price hikes would jeopardize the nation's strong economy and possibly lead to stiff federal restrictions.

He said in his economic message to Congress that it is "vitally important" that both unions and industry hew to the line of White House guidposts limiting wage raises to 3.2 per cent with no price hikes.

A blow to labor leaders' hopes in Johnson's message, accompanied by a report of his Council of Economic Advisers, was the failure to boost the guidpost figure to 3.6 per cent in line with latest national production figures.

"I'm sure it has been and will be described as changing the rules in the middle of the game," said council Chairman Gardner Ackley in defending the administration for sticking to the 3.2 per cent figure.

"We don't regard it that way, at all," he said at a briefing on the President's economic report.

The guidposts are based on the increase of productivity per man hour, which averaged 3.2 per cent the past five years.

The guidposts state that wages can be raised 3.2 per cent without price increases or larger profit margins for industry.

While conceding that the wage guidpost would be 3.6 per cent if 1965 figures were added and 1960 figures dropped, Ackley said, "We have never been wedded to the five-year rolling average."

He also conceded that previous council reports had used charts based on a moving five-year productivity average, but argued the text of the reports did not state them as a firm policy.

He said productivity gains cannot continue upward indefinitely with industrial production nearing full capacity and that 3.2 per cent was more in line with expected 1966 gains.

The administration's action appeared to grow directly out of a fear of adding inflationary pressures if the guidelines were revised upward.

After five years of a boom that Johnson described as an "American economic miracle," both the President and his economic advisers said the major challenge of 1966 was to operate the economy near full blast without inflation.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson sends Congress today an economic report expected to paint a bright picture of expanding national prosperity coupled with a warning against the threat of inflation.

A Satisfying Meal

by Gaymer Maddox
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Cabbage, a good source of vitamin C, makes a good eating. Shredded and combined with raw apples, it makes a pleasant salad. Cut in wedges, steamed briefly, it makes an interesting vegetable dish. But always remember — do not overcook cabbage. Better a little undercooked than overcooked.

Try it combined with onion and sour cream and serve with delicately browned pork sausage and you have a very satisfying dinner. Don't forget the rye bread, fresh from the nearest bakery.

CABBAGE WITH SOUR CREAM AND PORK SAUSAGES

- (Serves 6)
- | | |
|---|----------------------------------|
| 1 medium firm head cabbage (2 1/2 lbs.) | 1/2 cup commercial sour cream |
| 1/2 cup chicken or beef stock | 1 1/2 teaspoons flour |
| 1 1/2 teaspoons salt | 1/2 teaspoon ground white pepper |
| 1 slice of a large onion | 1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg |
| 1/2 teaspoon butter or margarine | 1 teaspoon sugar |
| | Link pork sausages |

Remove the coarse outer leaves from cabbage; save them for salads. Shred the cabbage coarsely and place in a saucepan with stock and salt. Saute onion in butter or margarine until limp. Add to cabbage. Cover and cook slowly until cabbage is just tender. Add sour cream. Blend in flour, white pepper, nutmeg and sugar. Heat. Serve with link pork sausages sauteed until brown, allowing 3 per serving.

How Helpful Is PTA?

by Susan Light, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Running a close second to "the battle of the sexes" is the cool war that seems to go on ceaselessly between parents and teachers. They share common interests, objectives and goals; yet, too often they don't see eye-to-eye with each other.

PTA tries to bridge the gap between the home and the school and for this it deserves a star in its crown. PTA board and committee members frequently spend long, hard hours working on various projects to benefit the school as "Perturbed Board Member" pointed out in another column.

They hold bake sales to earn money for library books, collect clothing for needy children, bring in speakers to talk about education, hand out literature on school bond issues, and the like. There's no doubt about the worthiness of their intentions and causes.

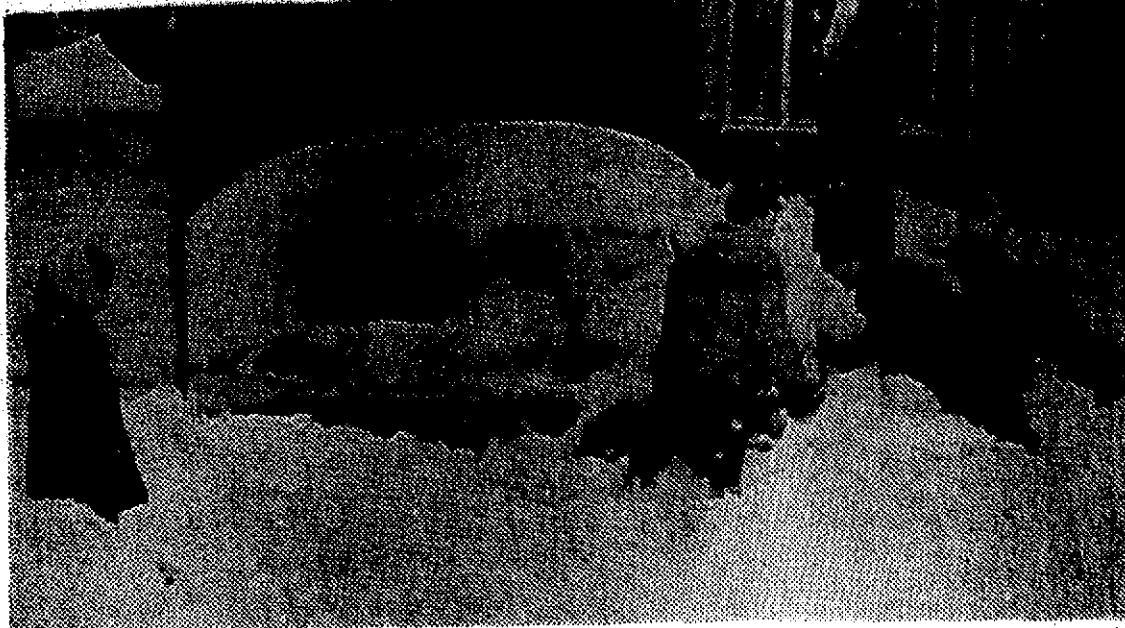

But, as "Perturbed" wrote, despite all she and other PTAs have done for the school (working in the library, selling U.S. Savings Stamps, mimeographing newsletters, etc.), the teachers make them feel like intruders. This, because the teachers feel that what goes into the ears of some members comes out of their mouths as soon as they leave the school. And undoubtedly it does! School gossip flies fast over telephone wires, coffee cups and bridge tables.

Sometimes I wonder if PTA board members ever stop to think of just how much their activities actually help the teachers. Mimeographing newsletters means one more item for teachers to distribute to the children and to check on afterwards to make sure they took them home. Selling U.S. Savings Stamps causes an extra interruption in the school day and the teacher's train of thought. Working in the library aids the librarians.

Entertaining teachers at appreciation lunches and teas, as some PTAs graciously do, only adds another event to their already overcrowded schedules. Expecting them to drive back to evening PTA meetings after a long, grueling day at school is cruelty to humans. And cornering them when they get there is the last straw.

Teachers DO need help with a million-and-one duties unrelated to teaching. But perhaps the best way to help them is to leave them alone unless something constructive like taking over playground duty can be arranged.

Can you really blame teachers for being less than enthusiastic about most PTA activities?

Any leftover cooked ham in the refrigerator? Then why not make this ham and pickle loaf and ask a few friends in for an informal supper party?

The no-bake loaf can be made ahead of time. It is very attractive with its floral garnish of pineapple and slices of sweet gherkins. Sweet pickle relish and spices used with restraint give the ham excellent flavor.

Too Much Pampering Cuts Husband Survival

by Ruth Millett

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Memo to overworked housewives:

A recent report from the American Heart Association indicates that physically active men get fewer heart attacks than desk-sitting, television-watching men. The active men also have a much better chance of surviving a heart attack than the sitters.

Doesn't that give you an idea? What you should be doing, instead of hogging all those jobs that demand physical exertion, is to share them with your desk-bound, television-chained husband.

Give him a chance to run after the family creeper or toddler when he's around the house. Give him a chance now and then to hike around that one-stop shopping center—looking for Junior's jeans and Aunt Emmy's birthday gift.

Let him help with the window washing, floor waxing, garage cleaning and a few other of the odd jobs that are good physical exercise.

Wives have for so long been told they should spare their overworked husbands any kind of hard, physical work around the house and yard that many of them have been ushering their husbands to an easy chair before the television set night after night and weekend after weekend, even though their husbands sit all day behind an office desk.

Now in good conscience the overworked wife and mother can turn over to her husband some of the jobs that she has been sparing him from.

She can assure him that, if he sits all day at a desk, the worst thing in the world for him to do with his evenings and weekends is to sit in an easy chair watching television—while she chases after the kids and gets all that wonderful exercise that would do him so much good.

But for his conceit, man could believe those rumors that the flying saucers are searching for signs of intelligent life on earth.

Don't be surprised if student demonstrators picket the White House to protest the government's failure to provide free brickbats for them to throw at the cops.

Mom says she envies the good Lord. At least He was able to rest on the seventh day.

HERE COMES POOH BEAR

Winnie the Pooh, whose escort of bees is appropriate for a honey-loving bear of very little brain, sails toward his movie debut in "Winnie the Pooh and the Honey Tree."

New Playmate For Donald Duck

Winnie the Pooh, engaging, rolypoly creation of English author A. A. Milne, has been delighting children for two generations. He now comes to the movie screen in a sort of trial balloon, you might say, in a Walt Disney featurette, "Winnie the Pooh and the Honey Tree." Although rights to the "Pooh" stories have been owned by the Disney studio for some time, this is the first visit of Pooh to the screen. Pooh Bear, Christopher Robin, Rabbit, Eeyore and all Rabbit's friends and relations strongly resemble the original Ernest H. Shepard sketches. Pooh, never known for an overabundance of gray matter, does have a superabundance of charm. It is reasonable to believe, should he captivate moviegoers, we'll be seeing more of Pooh, and the rest of the inhabitants of the forest.

In a faithful likeness of the original Ernest H. Shepard drawing, Winnie the Pooh, is launched on his screen career.

Christopher Robin, Kanga and Eeyore form a chain to extricate a sticky, overstuffed Pooh Bear from "Rabbit's House" in the Disney release of the A. A. Milne-based story.

Turkey Gets the Iceberg Treatment

by Gaynor Maddox, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

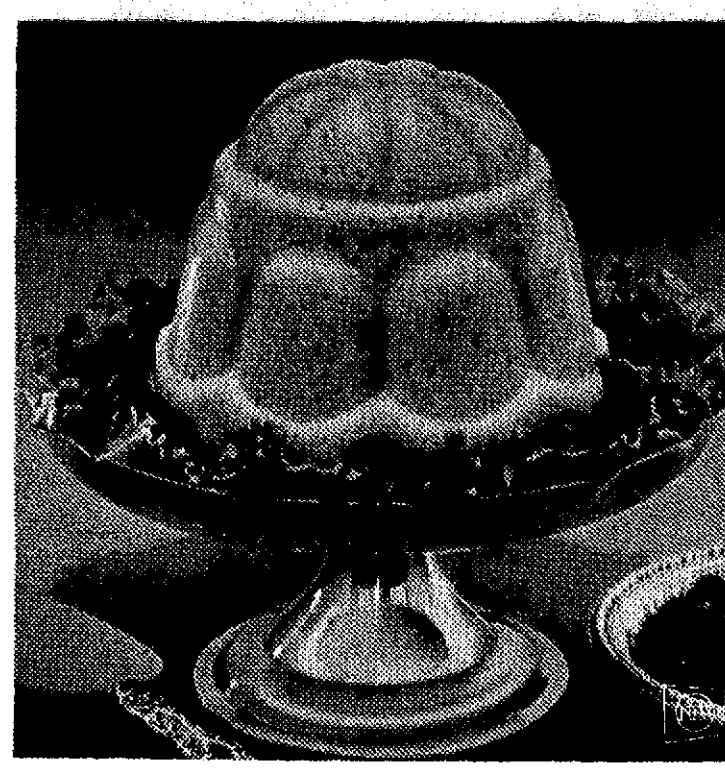

If you enjoy slightly off-beat concoctions, try this turkey iceberg mousse. It's a conversation piece. But good eating, too.

TURKEY ICEBERG MOUSSE

- (Serves 8)
- 1 head western iceberg lettuce
 - 1 cup turkey or chicken broth or consommé
 - 1 1/2 to 2 cups diced cooked turkey
 - 1 small onion, cut into chunks
 - 1 cup mayonnaise
 - 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - 3 envelopes gelatin
 - 1/2 cup water
 - 1 cup whipping cream
 - Whole cranberry sauce
- Core, rinse and drain lettuce. Remove 3 outer leaves; shred enough remaining lettuce to make 2 cups, tightly packed. Refrigerate remainder with outer leaves in plastic bag or saran. Place shredded lettuce in blender container with broth; whirl until smooth. Add turkey, onion, mayonnaise, lemon juice and salt; whirl until smooth. Mix gelatin and water; heat, stirring, until dissolved. Blend with turkey mixture. Chill until mixture mounds softly on spoon. Meanwhile, whip cream until stiff. Fold into turkey mixture. Turn into 5 1/2- or 6-cup mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on serving platter. Tear reserved outer lettuce leaves; use as garnish for mold along with cranberry sauce. Pass additional sauce if you wish.

*Or chop shredded lettuce very finely with French knife. Chop or grind turkey and onion very finely. Mix lettuce, turkey, onion, broth, mayonnaise, lemon juice and salt; then proceed as directed above.

TURKEY ICEBERG MOUSSE is different.

McMath Is Up for Promotion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Arkansas Gov. Sid McMath has been nominated for promotion, from brigadier general to major general in the Marine Reserves.

The White House announced the nomination Tuesday. McMath, an attorney at Little Rock, was governor from 1949 through 1952.

Monsoon Rains Leave 40 Dead

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — Monsoon rains have killed at least 40 persons, left thousands homeless and destroyed more than 200,000 acres of rice in central Burma.

Troops, police and civilian volunteers have been rushed to the stricken areas where flood damage has seriously endangered Burma's economic position for 1966.

The Agriculture Department has drawn up plans for winter crop cultivation to compensate farmers in part at least for the rice crops they have lost.

Burma, one of the world's leading rice producers, normally exports about 1.8 million tons a year.

The United States is the world's largest producer and consumer of shrimp, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

GOLDEN GOODNESS

BOLD NEW LABEL

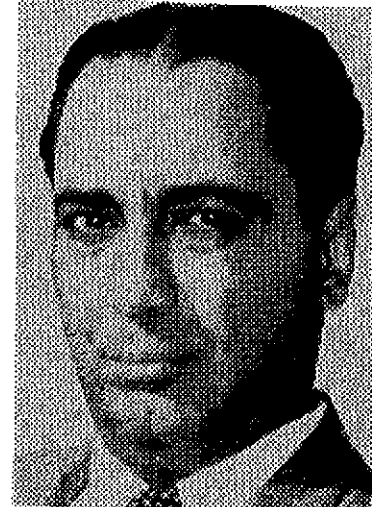

Mixing time is short for this little quick bread because you use enriched self-rising flour. This reliable product already contains just the right amount of leavening and salt for perfect results and wonderful home-baked goodness everytime. Three B-vitamins, and the minerals calcium and iron, found in enriched self-rising flour provide an important nutritional plus.

NUTTY CORN MUFFINS

- 12 muffins
- 1/2 cup chopped dried apricots
 - 1 cup boiling water
 - 1/2 cups enriched self-rising corn meal
 - 1/2 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
 - 1/2 cup chopped pecans
 - 1/4 cup chopped dates
 - 1 egg, beaten
 - 3/4 to 1 cup milk
 - 2 tablespoons melted shortening or oil
 - Confectioners sugar

Soak apricots in water about 10 minutes and drain. Stir together corn meal and brown sugar in mixing bowl. Mix in 1/2 cup pecans, dates and apricots. Blend egg with 3/4 cup milk and shortening or oil. Add liquid all at once to corn meal mixture and mix until well blended. If necessary, add more milk to make a medium-thick batter. Fill greased or paper-lined muffin cups 3/4 full. Sprinkle tops with remaining pecans. Bake in preheated 425° oven 20 to 25 minutes, or until golden brown. Remove muffins from pan and sprinkle lightly with confectioners sugar. Serve warm or cool.

Almost all paint blistering can be traced to applying paint to damp or wet wood. Wood must be perfectly dry before painting.

CRASH VICTIM—Death of Dr. Homi Bhabha in the crash of an Air India jetliner into Switzerland's Mount Blanc could affect the Asian power balance. Dr. Bhabha, an Indian atomic energy commissioner, had said he could build a nuclear bomb for his country in 18 months if necessary to keep pace with Communist China.

Just one taste of Sunburst Coffee Cake, tempting and hot from the oven, endears this breakfast specialty. Juicy mandarin orange slices radiate atop the crunchy coconut-brown sugar topping. Beneath the sweet crown, you'll find the tender light cake.

This quick-mix coffee cake is twice as easy with convenient self-rising flour — a baking product suited to busy schedules. Pre-blended leavening and salt eliminate extra measuring and sifting steps for you.

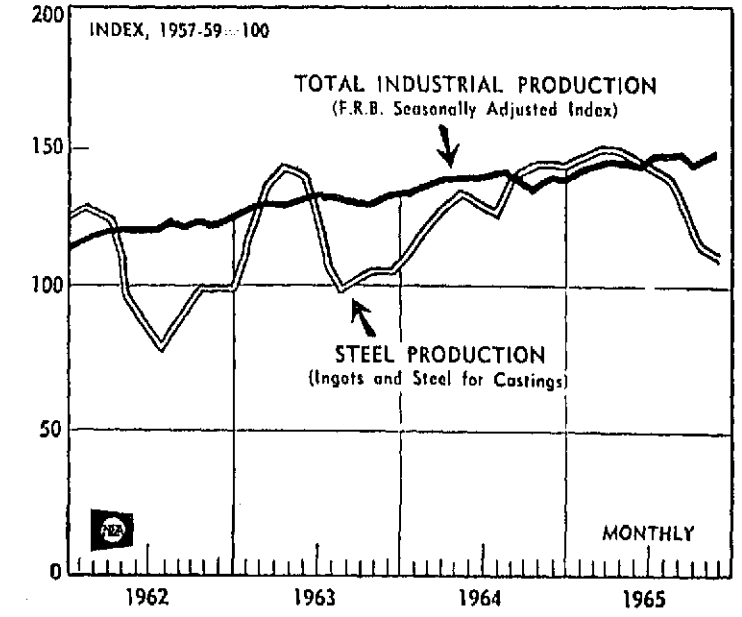

And enriched self-rising products offer pleasure plus nutritional benefits. Made with enriched self-rising flour, Sunburst Coffee Cake contains three B-vitamins, plus the minerals calcium and iron, all necessary for maintenance of daily good health.

SUNBURST COFFEE CAKE

- 6 to 8 servings
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 - 1 can (11 oz.) mandarin oranges, drained
 - 1/4 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
 - 1/4 cup chopped nuts
 - 1/4 cup flaked coconut
 - 1 1/2 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour*
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 1/2 cup all-purpose shortening
 - 3/4 cup milk
 - 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract
 - 1 egg

Melt butter or margarine in 9-inch round cake pan. Starting from center of pan arrange orange slices spoke-fashion on bottom. Mix brown sugar, nuts and coconut and sprinkle over oranges. Sift together flour and sugar into mixing bowl. Blend in shortening and 1/2 cup milk. Beat 2 minutes on medium speed of electric mixer or 300 strokes by hand. Blend in remaining milk, lemon extract and egg. Beat at medium speed 2 minutes or 300 strokes more. Turn into pan, spreading evenly. Bake in preheated 350° oven 40 to 45 minutes, or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan on wire rack 15 minutes before inverting onto serving plate. Serve warm or cool.

*If you don't sift and in the absence of other directions, spoon flour directly from container into a one-cup measure, level off, then remove two level tablespoonfuls, according to USDA recommendations.

ERRATIC STEEL—While over-all industrial production has maintained a steady rate of growth over the past four years, the record of steel, basis of the nation's industrial economy, has been a series of ups and downs. Total industrial production is based on Federal Reserve Board statistics while the American Iron and Steel Institute supplies steel figures.

Sample French Fried Mushrooms

FRENCH FRIED MUSHROOMS are a new taste delight.

by Gaynor Maddox
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

We dined recently with a distinguished Chicago home economist, Lois Ross. She had just perfected a recipe for French fried mushrooms, and after eating them, we shared her enthusiasm. Yes, she served them with broiled steak. Also with whipped potatoes and a mixed lettuce and tomato salad with French dressing made with oil and lemon juice.

Dessert was her new chocolate oatmeal cake (you'll like it) and fresh fruit cup. We hope everyone in Chicago eats as well as we did dining with Lois Ross.

FRENCH FRIED MUSHROOMS

- (Makes 6 servings)
- 1 lb. fresh mushrooms
 - 1/4 cup milk
 - 3/4 cup pancake mix
- Dip mushrooms into milk, then pancake mix. Fry in hot deep fat (375 degrees) until golden brown, about 2 minutes. Drain on absorbent paper.

Variation: Substitute 2 medium-sized onions for mushrooms. Cut in 1/4-inch slices and separate in rings. Dip into milk, then pancake mix. Fry as above.

CHOCOLATE OATMEAL CAKE

- (Makes one 9-inch cake)
- 1 1/4 cups boiling water
 - 1 cup rolled oats (quick or old-fashioned, uncooked)
 - 1/2 cup butter or margarine, soft
 - 1 cup granulated sugar
 - 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla
 - 2 eggs
 - 2 oz. (2 sq.) unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled
 - 1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 - 1 teaspoon soda

1/2 teaspoon salt

3/4 teaspoon cinnamon

For cake, pour boiling water over oats. Stir; cover and let stand 20 minutes. Beat butter until creamy. Gradually add sugars, beating until fluffy. Blend in vanilla, eggs and melted chocolate. Add oats mixture; mix well. Sift together flour, soda, salt and cinnamon. Add to creamed mixture, mixing well. Pour batter into greased and floured 9-inch-square pan. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) for 50 to 55 minutes. Do not remove cake from pan.

For broiled frosting, combine:

- 1/4 cup melted butter
- 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 3 tablespoons light cream
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans
- 1/4 cup coconut

Spread evenly over cake. Broil until frosting becomes bubbly. Serve warm or cold.
